Foreword

TO give each student and each member of the Faculty a book of memories of the year 1943, in the time of the second World War, the staff of PINES AND PENS offers this — the third volume of our annual.

Life in Westhampton High School has been changed considerably by the war. Members of our student body have withdrawn from school to enlist. Some student activities have been curtailed because of restrictions enforced by the war. In the same way other activities have been presented to us. We have been offered the opportunity of contributing our part to the winning of the ultimate victory. Familiar this year, as never before, are the war stamps, the rationing program, and the scrap drives. Our students and faculty have all taken part in these — just as they have in the establishment of the new Victory Corps. In Westhampton High School we have always tried to contribute our share to the success of the local community; now we have directed our energies toward the work of that larger and more important community — the nation.

Through the years, though changes come and go, there are some things which remain constant. Just as the Stars and Stripes shall always be the emblem of our nation; so too, we feel, shall PINES AND PENS be the symbol of Westhampton. Always the Pines shall remind us of the everlasting strength and beauty of our school, and the Pens, exemplify the achievements of its students. It is then with a degree of pride that we present to you this record of your life at Westhampton.

September of 1942 saw the Seniors of 1943 beginning their last year of high school. It also began that year of long awaited events that every Senior knows.

Contrary to tradition, because of war conditions our Seniors did not visit Washington but contented themselves with entering more wholeheartedly into their school work.

In February the rings and pins, which every underclassman envies, arrived. On March the third the Seniors were measured for caps and gowns.

The Senior Class play, One Mad Night, was given in the spring. Along with other spring activities came the thrill of ordering invitations, rehearsing for graduation exercises, and the commencement night program.

Our Seniors are not only interested in their class works, but also in the school itself and its Student Council. Most of our Seniors are active members of clubs and organizations. They have supported school projects and dances; they have willingly and cheerfully participated in various kinds of war work during and after school hours.

Senior Class History of 1943

We seniors began our first high school year with only a hazy shadow of war hanging over our school life. And what a life as Freshmen! Sixty-five of us were dazed for weeks by the frightening routine of changing classes and bells, bells, and bells. It was hard to get used to the stampede of those starving upperclassmen at the lunch hour and to being last in line. It was even harder to murmur an apology and surrender the last sandwich to a superior Senior.

Miss Guy introduced us to Edgar Allan Poe. (And we haven't forgotten him yet!) Nor have we forgotten that trip to the Poe Shrine, followed by visits to the Virginia Assembly and the Battle Abbey. This was the year of Westhampton's first Carnival; and what jolly times we had that night. The school wasn't the same for days, and the Freshmen were wilder than ever.

We romantic kids were so touched by the devotion of Miss Miller and Mr. Morrell that we started romances of our own --- the greatest and truest of which were Susie Seay and Dorsett Rollings and Earle Dunford and Grace Tobler.

The delight of the spring term was the installation of the sound system over which Mr. Beaty was the happiest. We giddy Freshmen found the greatest joy in betting the exact time of announcements.

Our Sophomore year was wonderful — for the Sophomores. We really owned the school. (Well, most of it.) Earle Dunford was elected president of the class, and Bobby Baskins, the little Republican, was the apple of every Senior girl's eye. We were all quite favorably impressed with Miss Bray's fashionable hair cut, and under her direction the Sophomore English class presented scenes from "She Stoops to Conquer" with Johnny Hafling starring in the role of Tony Lumpkin, the drunkard.

This was the time for fashion to bob its head, with the girls (namely Ann Luebbert) showing off Sloppy Joe sweaters and the boys (Campbell Harris, for example) displaying fancy zoot suits. And fashion really bobbed its head well.

Never to be forgotten were the Standard I. Q. Tests given to all Freshmen and Sophomores. (So, that's what happened to our large Sophomore Class.) Mildred Mancos surprised everyone (including me) by being among the winners of the literary contest with ONE of her poems.

Our Sophomore Class saw the last carnival and the publishing of the first annual. How we rushed around getting autographs of teachers and friends, and scribbled our own "John Hancocks" in letters as big as anything on the shiny pages of the PINES AND PENS. As for Student Government, the rumors concerning it were becoming facts, and we all eagerly awaited its inauguration in our Junior year.

In the fall of 1941, we were trying to appreciate being a city school and at the same time call Miss Saunders by her married name, Mrs. Ziebe. The Quill and Scroll tapped eight Junior members and many of our classmates were doing commendable work on the staffs of the DIPLOMAT and the PINES AND PENS. This school really had THE Junior class and we were it.

Arrived then, the time for the traditional trip to Williamsburg made annually by the Junior History Class. We piled into two busses and sang and joked our way there and back. And what romances sprang up. Our wee English lass, Betty Brown, really blossomed and represented the Junior girls in winning hearts, boys and girls alike. It seems, though, that Jimmy Wooten had the priority.

In October Westhampton began girls' basketball, and the little, blonde Swede, Betty Anne Gustafson, really showed up the Senior stars. November brought for the Juniors the thrill of the Chart Club Dance which boosted war stamp sales tremendously. More romances burst forth with this affair and among them — Bee Mahon and Bob Jones. The Madonna for the Christmas Pageant was Ida Lee Hollingsworth, and she was lovely in the part.

In the Literary Contests, the Junior Class was proudly represented by Emma Jeanne Spears who carried off top honors in Girls' Public Speaking, and Campbell Harris who won in Boys' Public Reading. This was the time that Emma Jeanne became the State champion.

Student Government was set up in March, and we Juniors even had a Junior running for President! The platform speeches and campaigns were more or less riots, led of course, by Junior students. (Well, it was excitement anyway.)

On the occasion of sugar rationing everyone had fun and the writers' cramp. We got out of school and pitched in the hard work with a fine spirit. We all made new friends and got to know our teachers better. (It didn't work — homework as usual.)

SENIORS

When the time came for our beloved Seniors to graduate, the Juniors faced the problem of giving them a farewell party. We decided on a hay ride, and sure enough (you guessed it) it rained the whole day of the picnic. We were undaunted, however, and eighty-nine Juniors and Seniors embarked that evening in two vehicles loaded with rain soddened hay. But, that was the night, and personally, I'll never forget it.

We hated to see those Seniors leave, but in the fall of 1942 Westhampton High met its new Seniors — us. Our first surprise was our new principal, whom we liked at first sight. Our second surprise was the new cafeteria — and food. Our other surprises were the new teachers and Miss Bray as our assistant principal.

We were naturally a little disappointed that we couldn't visit Washington because of the war, but we took it on the chin and set to work in defense jobs during and after school hours. Charlie Whitmore was elected president of the Student Council with other 'distinguished' Seniors serving on the board. Earle Dunford was chosen as the Senior Class president.

We were proud of Ida Lee Hollingsworth again when she won the D. A. R. award. The lovely Madonna for our 1942 Christmas pageant was Mildred Mancos. Something new was added to our school this year. That something new was our band. The Seniors really did it justice marching out of assembly in step with the music (and on someone else's feet).

The Chart Club tapped six of our Seniors and the Quill and Scroll brought in eleven new Senior members. Were we proud of our school jewelry! Even though we couldn't get much variety in our rings and pins, it seems to me that quite a few pieces were exchanged — not with the jeweler, but with other Seniors.

The best assembly program of the year (in the Seniors' eyes) was the program in which Johnny Hafling and Cato at the drums and Jesse Hood at the piano, gave a jam session, assisted by a bunch of darkies from 203. Rationing this year proved to be less strenuous and more entertaining for the Seniors than that first rationing affair. Seniors were given 'positions' far superior to the lower classmen's 'jobs'. (Hmm, didn't know we were of the executive type.)

Measuring for caps and gowns was fun, even if we did get the figures slightly confused. Rehearsing for our play, ONE MAD NIGHT, was fun — every minute of it. Those before-the-curtain jitters vanished as members of the Senior Class carried off the house in gales of laughter.

Those last few days of high school flew by, and many a tear was shed in fond (?) remembrance of the grand times we had all had in Westhampton High School. We remembered many things — classes and study periods, and the old bye-gone detention halls. We recalled, too, the chase through the woods after the convict (?) as he 'dashed madly' (Thanks, Miss Bentley) through the rain soaked trees. Then, too, there are some little traits of teachers that we'll never forget — Miss Sadler's reaction to the useless tearing of paper, or Mrs. Ziebe's pop quizzes and history note-books; those maddening moments of silence (?) in the library, and jokes in Civics told by either party.

Then, finally — Commencement Day. And that name is significant in itself, for that's when we commenced to realize how much school really meant to us. Not just classes and grades — but the friends we knew there, the jolly associations we had, and the live-and-learn experiences found so easily, just for the looking.

That's our history, nothing spectacular — just American youth in high school.

NEW JUNIORS, new advisers, and a changed schedule made school life quite different for the Junior Class this year. They adapted themselves to the situation, however, and pitched in to help with War Activities as well as to fulfill their own individual jobs.

The Juniors were active on the Student Council and helped greatly in the rationing program during the last week of February. One of the traditional events of the Junior Class, the interesting trip to historical Williamsburg, had to be cancelled this year because of the war, all Juniors agreed that this was only a small contribution for them to make toward the achievement of victory.

If we are to judge from the leadership and determination shown by this class during the past three years, the next year will see them contributing even more to the advancement of whatever schools they may attend.

. . . The first day in your new home room when you were really glad to be back and meet your old friends and to make new ones? You probably made some fast friendships that first week.

. . . When you first realized that you were in your last year at good ole' W. H. S.? You were right sorry, weren't you?

. . . The day Mr. Troxell gave forth on his trumpet for us and we thought him su-per?

. . . That Chart Club Christmas Dance? Everybody came and was it neat — remember?

. . . When the ban was placed on Zoot Suits and Campbell Harris was downcast for two or three days after? He's patriotic though.

. . . When the school band under Mr. Troxell made its debut?

. . . When everyone had the measles — teachers included?

. . . Our "mid-term" vacation that was ruined by an ice storm?

. . . When Chemistry classes used to make that terrible smelling hydrogen sulfide?

. . . When the laboratory and Home Ec department were flooded by an overflow of $H_2O$?

. . . When the Seniors really left the auditorium first?

. . . When Miss Givens was a football casualty?

. . . And the late Senior boys finally got to school on time?

. . . When Westhampton High School was on the air?

. . . When all Juniors and Seniors began taking Physical Ed?

. . . That assembly program on April the first?

. . . When Charlie Whitmore hit the jack pot on the Juke Box program?

IF THERE is anyone more sophisticated or superior to all than a Senior, he is a Sophomore. Last year he was lost and bewildered, but now he has come into his own and considers himself far above anyone else, as a true Sophomore should.

The main project of the Sophomore Class this year is the Cafeteria Committee. New fields open to Sophomores are the Corridor Club and the Reception Committee, which were formerly limited to other classes. Sophomores are active in The Student Council, of which the preceeding organizations are a part. They become more and more important in the work of the school every year.

Sophomores not pictured: Billy Anderson, Carmeen Butler, Jean Carroll, Frank Chase, Marie Chewning, Gladys Dudley, Red Faglie, Franklin Davidson Garrett, Bessie Hammond, Carol Harris, Alma Jones, Ruth Kirby, Warren Kirtley, Philip Leake, Carl Lynn, Lloyd McGee, Thomas Nuchols, Dorothy Perkins, Kenneth Pickels, Robert Register, Robert Speir, Betty Jane Stant, Clara May Tate, Newton Thomas, John B. # THE STUDENT COUNCIL

In the second year of the Student Council in Westhampton High School came new members and a new adviser, Miss Imogen B. Wright, who has given much guidance and help to this organization.

The laws and constitution having been established last year, the Council was able to start work immediately after the election and installation of officers.

This year the Council has tried to promote unity between the home rooms and the Council itself and by doing so, bring about unity throughout the entire school.

Work in the student Council is very valuable to anyone taking part in it. Membership in this organization is considered a high honor. The members include representatives from every class, home room and club activity. Its work is carried on for the entire school and through it the desires and ideas of the students are discussed and put into effect.

The Student Council has four sub-committees working with it in the advancement of school welfare. These are the Corridor, Cafeteria, Reception, and Ground Committees.

Officers are: Charlie Whitmore, President; Mildred Mancos, Treasurer, and Sara Elizabeth Jones, Secretary. Members are: Robert Astrop, Ashley Bashaw, Barbara Belk, Edward Bradley, Betsy Brock, Jean Coffman, Sue Crowell, Elizabeth Daniel, Earle Dunford, Bettie Ann Ginn, Bruce Hamilton, Dot Harrison, Mary Jane Hollingsworth, Ida Lee Hollingsworth, Tommy Pearman, Ann Jones, Bob Jones, Elizabeth Koltukian, Wilbert Lacy, Charles Levey, Billy Michael, Bobby Nolley, Charles Peachee, John Pleasants, Shirley Quirk, Susie Gray Seay, Fletcher Stiers, and Reggie Williams.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Victory Corps

THE VICTORY CORPS of Westhampton High School is a school-wide organization of all students who are now actively engaged in some form of war effort, or those who, through opportunities for further training, hope to participate in such activities. The main purposes of the corps are to interest these students in taking part in the Community war service and in preparing themselves for future service either in the armed forces, the production program or in essential civilian occupations.

Our first specific aim is to bring each student to realize how vital a part he may play in the great mass concentration of man power needed to win this war; so we ask each applicant for membership in the corps two questions — "What are you doing now to hasten Victory?" and "What would you like to learn to do?" Answers to the first range from "collecting fats" to "Plane spotting" and to the latter from "bandage rolling" to "pre-flight aeronautics."

Our next aim is to provide suitable opportunities for the students to use their talents and abilities in fields of service by guiding them to local organizations needing workers.

Finally, we hope to provide training for future service by adopting currently offered courses to that end, and by securing additional instruction in other fields.

Buck Levey is chairman of the student committee. Bill Hancock and Cora Winfree are on this committee. By a vote of the organization Bill Hancock was chosen as leader of the entire corps. Members of the Staff are Jane Belk, U. S. O. Division; David Bounds, Military Division; Bucky Corley, Victory Gardens Division; Grace Davis, Home Nursing Division; Betty Ann Gustafson, Emergency Service Division; Earl Hargrove, School Service Division; Mary Jane Hollingsworth, First Aid Division; and Billy Rollings, Pre-flight Division.

The Junior Red Cross Council

THE JUNIOR RED CROSS COUNCIL of Westhampton High School has been trying to live up to its motto, "We Serve," this year by being of service to others. The Council has been very busy doing its best to aid in the war effort. Books have been collected for the Victory Book Drive; duffle bags for the soldiers have been made; games for the soldiers have been collected; Christmas boxes were sent to war orphans; scrap books have been exchanged with schools in other countries; sweaters have been knitted; favors for sick soldiers were made; and tin foil has been prepared for the government's drive for metal.

With the organization of the Victory Corps, the Junior Red Cross Council set up a production room and offered vital war courses to those students who desired to take them. Through the combined efforts of all the students the production room was a great success and many items were contributed to the war effort.

The officers are: Mary Jane Hollingsworth, Chairman; Reggie Williams, Vice-Chairman; Peggy Thompson, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Frances Trevvett Matthews, Adviser. The members are: William Astrop, Shirley Barker, Carmeen Butler, Joe Eaheart, Bruce Hamilton, Glenna Lyons, Clara Mahon, Carol Morecock, Marjorie Northern, Violet Williams.

The Library Staff

THE LIBRARY STAFF is composed of about twenty-five Westhampton students who give their spare time to assisting with the efficient operation of our school library. They have all taken a keen interest in the library activities. They repair the books and keep them in order; they serve as desk clerks and render other valuable services. The staff holds weekly meetings at the assigned club period. They divide their time between business programs and library training. Besides the regular daily work in the library, the club provided special decorations in the library for Book Week. Special decorations have also been arranged for other seasons of the school year. The members also sponsored a Book Week Program in assembly an "Information, Please" quiz in which the students contributed the questions, and our teachers served as the experts who "knew all the answers."

The purpose and aim of the Library Staff is to improve the library and its service in every way possible. Every effort is made to maintain high standards in qualification for membership. Dependability, trustworthiness and industry are stressed.

The Future Homemakers Club

THE FUTURE HOMEMAKERS CLUB of Westhampton, a branch of the Virginia Future Homemakers Club, was organized on October 23, 1942, with thirty charter members.

The specific purposes of this organization are to develop initiative and leadership; to make an individual and collective contribution in service to the school and community; to have a better understanding of the vocational opportunities in the field of Home Economics; and to provide additional social experience for the members.

The meetings are held each Monday during activities period. The first and third meetings of the month are business meetings while the second and fourth consist of programs planned by the Program Committee.

All members are now enrolled in Home Economics Classes or have had a course in home making at some previous time.

The officers of the club are: Beatrice Specter, President; Dorothy Martin, Vice-President; Rose Williams, Secretary; Jean Salasky, Treasurer; and Mrs. Mary Finney Smith, Adviser.

The Vocal Class

To my best girl friend with best wishes.

DURING THE YEAR the Vocal Class has progressed immensely. The first day, nine girls and one boy reported to the class. After a few weeks the class grew to twenty-five members and now it has thirty-seven members. The class made its first public appearance on the first of October, when a musical program was given for the student body. Since then the members of the class have sung in every assembly and also led the students in the school songs. They have also sung for the Parent Teacher's Association. One of the most important things done by the group this year was to help with the Christmas pageant. We feel that our successful year will be an excellent basis for our continued development. Our success, of course, is due to the excellent leadership of our director, Mr. Mark Troxell, and our pianist, Rose Williams.

Officers of the Vocal Class are: Mark F. Troxell, Director; Jean Franklin, Student Director; and Rose Williams, Pianist. Members are: Russell Allen, Bill Bourne, Ruth Bowles, Phyllis Brooks, Carmeen Butler, Jean Carroll, Juanita Childress, Marion Curtis, Marie Chewning, Anne Dennis, Herbert Dudley, Jean Forberg, Aubrey Ford, Frank Hastings, Viola Henly, Thelma Jackson, Alma Jones, Lillian Jones, Alberta Kooger, Wilbert Lacy, Clinton Miller, Madeleine Nardi, Norris Nardi, Jean Nicholas, Buck Pickels, Rosemond Pickels, Cornelia Powers, Jean Quirk, Shirley Quirk, Dorothy Rindfleisch, Charlotte Robertson, Judson Satterwhite, Dorothy Schaaf, John Sutherland, and Doris Thrift.

The Band

A FEW WEEKS after school opened the students on the first floor and others scattered around in the building began to hear queer squeaks and wails coming out of the Annual Room. Then slowly they heard those noises develop into almost musical sounds. Shortly after Christmas the entire school was annoyed by the removing of two rows of seats in the front of the auditorium and the construction of a large cabinet in the rear. All of this noise and confusion was nothing more than a dream coming true. For years the students and teachers at Westhampton had wished for the day when the air would be filled with the sound of snappy marches and peppy school songs played by a Westhampton High School Band. Now that dream has been realized.

When the group was first organized there were about fifteen people on hand to play. Most of these were inexperienced, but they were all willing to learn. So under the expert leadership of Mr. Mark F. Troxell and with the fine co-operation of the group the band grew in size and improved in playing until finally the big moment came. On February 11, 1943, the band made its debut most successfully.

The Chart Club

FOUR YEARS AGO, six students at Westhampton organized an honorary club for the purpose of recognizing outstanding leadership shown by the students in school life. It was called the Chart Club, deriving its name from the chart and compass, signifying discovery, exploration, and invention. Membership includes those Juniors and Seniors who possess leadership, initiative, scholarship, responsibility, and interest in the school, and who are approved by a faculty committee.

The work of the Chart Club this year has again consisted of selling war stamps at the familiar red, white, and blue booth on the first floor. The club also sponsored a Christmas dance, the first one of the season, which was enjoyed by the faculty and patrons as well as the students. Because of the untidy arrangement of the bicycles at school, the seventh-grade safety-patrol committee cooperated with the Chart Club in working on a more orderly system which has proven very successful. In addition, the members of the Chart Club served as ushers at the annual Father's Night program of the Parent Teacher's Association.

New members are tapped during formal ceremonies which are held twice a year at assembly before the entire student body.

Officers of the Chart Club are: Susie Gray Seay, President; Charles Levey, Vice-President; Elizabeth Koltukian, Secretary-Treasurer.

Members are: Jack Butterworth, Jean Coffman, Earle Dunford, Bill Hancock, Campbell Harris, Ida Lee Hollingsworth, Bob Jones, Sara Elizabeth Jones, Mildred Mancos, Emma Jeanne Spears, Charlie Whitmore, Reggie Williams, Rose Williams, Cora Winfree.

THE QUILL AND SCROLL chapter of Westhampton High School was organized in 1940 by four charter members, and since that time the size of the chapter has steadily increased. This national honorary society for high school journalists now has 2500 chapters located in almost every state of the Union and some foreign countries. Quill and Scroll recognizes those students who have proven themselves outstanding in the field of journalism and awards them with membership in this honor society and the privilege of wearing the emblem of the society.

This year, the Westhampton Chapter of Quill and Scroll has undertaken two major projects. One of the projects is the compiling of a list of the persons in the service who either graduated from Westhampton High School or for whom Westhampton was the last school attended. After the war an honor plaque bearing the names on the above list will be placed in the hall. The other project of Quill and Scroll is the publicizing of school activities.

Officers are: Elizabeth Koltukian, President; Fletcher Stiers, Vice-President; Peggy Thompson, Secretary-Treasurer; Emma Jeanne Spears, Historian.

THE DIPLOMAT

WESTHAMPTON HIGH SCHOOL'S monthly newspaper, the DIPLOMAT, was again published this year through the combined efforts of the literary and business staffs.

The DIPLOMAT is a member of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association and also a member of Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalists. The DIPLOMAT was presented an honor award by the Southern Interscholastic Press Association which has been discontinued for the duration of the war. Quill and Scroll held contests for newspapers belonging to that organization last fall and the DIPLOMAT won the international first place award for a paper of high achievement.

Under the able guidance of Miss Mary Ann Guy of the literary staff and Miss Frances Givens of the business staff, the DIPLOMAT was able to meet press deadlines and was a success again this year.

The DIPLOMAT contains all school news, gossip, editorials, and comments on world events. The policy of the newspaper has always been to please its readers and the DIPLOMAT always welcomes the comments and suggestions of its readers and strives to please the students.

THE DIPLOMAT

This year the DIPLOMAT found it increasingly difficult to secure ads and it was only through the co-operation of the students that the DIPLOMAT was a success.

PINES AND PENS

At their first meeting in the fall of 1942, the members of the Pines and Pens staff were given their positions and told what each job covered. Before Christmas lists of the class and organization rolls were checked for representation and a general plan to be used in the '43 annual was made.

It was not until after the Christmas holidays that the actual work of compiling the articles began for this year's Pines and Pens volume. The faculty, seniors, and juniors reported to Dementi's to be photographed; other class and organization pictures were taken a little later at the school by the staff photographer.

During the next few months, the editorial staff members were kept well occupied checking membership lists, writing and re-writing articles, arranging and numbering pictures, drawing the first dummy, and making last minute changes. This was not all, for the business staff conducted an active subscription campaign and the business manager and his co-workers scoured the town, missing no one in soliciting the ads."

It was with a bit of uncertainty that the staff of Pines and Pens undertook the editing of the annual for the year of 1943. It hasn't been easy, but we feel that we have completed our task with a certain degree of success. The close co-operation between the editorial and business staffs has been the factor most responsible for accomplishing our goal.

The Varsity Club

THE VARSITY CLUB of Westhampton, originating several years ago, set forth this year to care for the athletic equipment and to keep order at the various athletic contests. The membership this year was limited as follows: (1) each person must have won a letter for participation in varsity competition; (2) each person must be passing three classes; (3) each person must be either a sophomore, a junior, or a senior; (4) each person must have a five-sevenths vote of the standing members for entrance.

Our adviser at the beginning of the year was Miss Margaret Purcell, Westhampton's girls' physical education instructor. She was relieved in February by Mrs. Virginia B. Sessoms, who is also Mr. Deierhoi's secretary.

The first meeting was held in October at which time the officers were chosen. A charter and constitution with by-laws were drawn up later. The meetings were held in Miss Purcell's class room until Mrs. Sessoms became adviser. They were then held in the chemistry laboratory.

Officers of the Varsity Club are: Campbell Harris, President; Billy Hawkins, Secretary; and John Hafling, Treasurer. Members are: Buddy Allen, Richard Blank, Thomas Burton, Jack Butterworth, Billy Cato, Bucky Corley, Earle Dunford, Billy Hancock, Francis Leake, Norris Nardi, and Logan Steel.

To Our Coaches

Even though the war has forced many restrictions on athletics, Miss Margaret Purcell and Mr. Thurman Towill as Directors of Athletics at Westhampton High School have done their utmost to keep sports as a major part of our school life.

Miss Purcell, not only undertook the continuation of basketball this year, but she has also added two new girls' sports at Westhampton, hockey and track. Under her fine leadership all have been successful.

Mr. Towill was faced with a shortage of experienced players in football and baseball and a lack of height in basketball; however, he showed the school fighting teams in all sports.

We wish to thank our coaches for keeping athletics a major part of Westhampton school life and for giving us such fine standards for good sportsmanship.

FOOTBALL

Thurman Towill
COACH

On September 1 a handful of boys reported to Coach T. B. Towill for the first football practice of 1942, but when school opened, twenty-five boys were on the roster.

Fredericksburg was the first opponent. The Fredericksburg team scored in the second quarter after a long drive downfield and in the fourth quarter on a beautiful pass play. Westhampton fought furiously, but lost 14-0. Harris, Blank, Hafling, and Butterworth played excellent ball for the losers.

Westhampton played the St. Christopher "Bees" in their next game. The teams were very evenly matched, but a bad center snap and a long pass were converted into scores by the Saints and the home team won 13 to 0.

The Diplomats played their third game with the J. M. Bees. Westhampton lost its third straight game as John Marshall's heavy team pushed over two touchdowns to win 12 to 0.

On a mud-soaked field the following week the Morrison Farmers downed the Westhampton team 6 to 0. The game was played at Morrison. Nardi's playing was superb for the losers. Pickels, Allen, Harris, and Hawkins also did exceptionally well. The Westhampton line held like a stone wall when the Farmers drove towards their goal, and the only time it yielded was when Morrison made its lone score.

Varina was the next team on the Westhampton schedule, and the Diplomats motored there for the encounter. Finally, in the last quarter Varina threw a pass in the end zone for a six-pointer. Another pass was completed for the extra point. Allen's kicking was magnificent for Westhampton; and Hancock, Young, and Butterworth stood out in the Diplomats' line. The game ended with the score — Varina 7, Westhampton 0.

The following week Varina traveled to Westhampton for a return engagement, and the Diplomats notched their only win of the season. Bill Hancock was the star of the day as he scored two touchdowns, one on a recovered fumble and the other on an intercepted pass. A long pass to Burton netted a third touchdown. Co-captain Campbell Harris booted two extra points. When the final whistle blew, the Diplomats were victorious 20-0.

Chester came to Westhampton the following week and both teams were fighting hard. However, Chester's powerful aggregation was too much for the Diplomats; and Westhampton came out on the short end of a 19-0 score. In the last quarter the Westhampton passing attack began to click, with Bill Hawkins throwing the ball with amazing accuracy. Chester stopped this threat with a pass interception, but Hawkins then intercepted an enemy aerial and made a long runback. Time ran out, however, before the Diplomats could run another play.

In the final game of the year Westhampton lost a heartbreaker to Highland Springs by a 6-0 count. The Diplomats penetrated to Highland Springs' 1-yard line just as the first half ended. The teams played evenly in the second half, but a fourth down pass was completed by the Springers to give them a 6-0 victory.

Although they won only one game the boys played clean, hard ball in every game and gave each opponent a tough battle.

BASKETBALL

When the first candidates for Westhampton's 1942-43 basketball team came out for practice in mid-December, it looked as if the Diplomats would have another winning combination. There were six lettermen for Coach Towill to build his team around — "Putsy" Burton, John Hafling, Campbell Harris, "Ricky" Blank, Bill Hawkins, and "Buddy" Allen. There were also many new comers out for the team.

The first game of the season was played against the Thomas Jefferson "Bees" away. The Diplomats worked hard for all four quarters but couldn't seem to hit the nets, and Teejay came out the victor by a 24-16 score with Layne bagging 9 points. Burton was high for Westhampton with 5 points. The next contest was played at Varina, where the Diplomats notched their first win of the season. Burton again was the high scorer for Westhampton as he got 11 points. Bill Hawkins was next in line with 9.

The first home game was played on February 2nd against Glen Allen, arch rivals of Westhampton for many years. The first quarter was very rough and tumble; however, as the game progressed, it became more basketball and less scrambling. The visitors led by one point at the half, but Coach Towill's charges came back after intermission to steal the lead and hold it. The final score was Westhampton 25, Glen Allen 18. For the third straight game Burton was high point man, this time with 8.

For their next encounter, the Diplomats journeyed to Ashland, where they took a 23-21 decision from the home team. The high scorer for the victors was Johnny Hafling with 8 markers.

On February 9, Varina came to Westhampton for the second game of their series. Again the Diplomats triumphed, this time by a 33 to 27 score. Bill Hawkins led the winners, scoring 10 points. "Putsy" Burton was next with 9.

However, high scoring honors for the game went to Forward Reid for Varina, who scored 11. The game was marred by the calling of 26 personal fouls.

Ashland paid a visit three days later, and the Diplomats chalked up their fifth straight victory, 42 to 24. "Putsy" Burton went on a spree and scored 16 joints, eleven of these coming in the first half.

The most thrilling game of the year was played at Chester with Westhampton shading Chester 27 to 25. The teams stuck close together throughout the contest, with the score being tied at the half. Chester went ahead by 3 points in the third quarter, but the Diplomats, led by Hawkins' 10 points, rallied to win their sixth straight victory.

In a return game with the Teejay "Bees" the Diplomats were hoping to get revenge for their previous defeat but were unable to achieve their purpose as the "Bees" won 27-21. Burton racked up 13 points for Westhampton, but it wasn't enough to win the game.

Bill Hawkins led the way to Westhampton's second victory over Glen Allen by scoring a total of 18 points. The final score was 43 to 23. Campbell Harris and "Putsy" Burton scored 10 and 9, respectively, for the winners.

Another game with Chester proved successful for the Diplomats as they coasted to a 42-19 victory. Burton with 11 points and Blank with 10 points led the scoring parade.

In the last game of the season the Diplomats faced Amelia High School. The Westhampton quint was without the services of two of its stars, Campbell Harris and John Hafling. This, however, didn't dismay them in the least as they finished their season in a blaze of glory winning 49 to 20. Bill Hawkins paced the winners by amassing 20 points. "Putsy" Burton and "Sonny" Miles each scored 10.

Burton led all scorers for the year with 106 points. Hawkins was next with 95.

The team really worked well together in all of their games. They should certainly be proud of their splendid playing. The only two losses of the year were to Teejay "Bees" who ended their season undefeated.

BASE

During the middle of March the 1943 edition of the Westhampton baseball team began its first practices of the year. About a half dozen boys from last year's team returned to form the nucleus of Coach Towill's team for this season.

At the date of publication only two games had been played, both of these being practice affairs. The first one was lost to St. Christopher by a 1-0 score. The next game was with Thomas Jefferson. The Diplomats built up a 9 to 2 lead in the early innings, but Teejay came back like a hurricane to cop the contest easily 20 to 9.

Pitchers on this year's team are Bill Hawkins, Herbert Dudley, John Proffit, and Fred Taylor, the catcher is Richard Blank. Bucky Corley and Thomas Nuckols are out for first base, while Pete Henley and Carlton Crooks seem to be assured of their positions at second and shortstop, respectively. The third base assignment goes to either Herbert Dudley or Bill Hawkins, depending on who is pitching. In the outfield are Esten Shomo, Vernon Urban, Logan Steel, Warren Kirtley, "Kenny" Griffin, "Sonny" Miles, and Norris Nardi. If the occasion arises, Nardi can come to the mound from his right field position or go behind the plate.

As of the time of publication no scheduled games have been played, but the tentative schedule is as follows:

Chester – here – April 21
Chester – there – April 30 (pending)
Varina – there – May 7
Varina – here – May 11
St. Christopher – here – date undecided
Teejay – here – date undecided

Games on a home and home basis would have been played with Ashland, Glen Allen, and Highland Springs if they had teams, however, those schools have dropped baseball because of transportation difficulties.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Again this year basketball has taken a place of importance in the girls' sports calendar. Under the fine leadership of Coach Margaret Lee Purcell the team has marked up many victories to their credit. "Bee" Mahon turned in a fine job as manager of the squad.

Only one letterman, Betty Ann Gustafson, returned as a forward, but as the season developed many promising players showed up. In the defensive zone four lettermen returned, Mildred Mancos, Ida Lee Hollingsworth, and Shirley Quirk, giving the squad great strength in that field. The first team came through with four wins against three defeats.

Captain Betty Ann Gustafson was high scorer in every game. Leading her team to their victories by her fighting spirit, Gustafson was chosen for the All-City Basketball Team. Clara Lee Miller proved to be an outstanding forward and contributed much to the team's victories. Although she did not turn in a high scoring average, Jean Quirk never let down her fine playing, and played an excellent game in following up shots from the backboard. The three guards, Mildred Mancos, Ida Lee Hollingsworth, and Shirley Quirk returned to the court this year and turned in their usual splendid teamwork. Mildred Mancos was chosen to play in the All-City Tournament and was selected as a member of the Second Team.

The first game of the season was lost to Westhampton College by a 57-14 score. Playing St. Gertrude's on our court, the squad defeated the visitors by a 32-19 count. Although on the losing end of the score in both cases the varsity played fine games against Thomas Jefferson and Richmond Professional Institute. The former defeated them 32-15 and the latter, 26-33. Other victories for the team were over St. Catherine's 22-21; John Marshall 23-17; and St. Patrick's.

Because of the large number of girls who came out this year, the squad was divided into a varsity and a second team. The second team this year was not as victorious as the varsity, but there are a number of players who will be able to play excellent basketball on the teams of those schools in which they enroll next year.

Charlotte Anne Dover acted as captain of the team. She proved herself capable of having this honor. In every game she was one of the outstanding players. Jean Franklin, one of last year's lettermen, was also an outstanding player in the defense. Playing also with these two was Anne Dennis who proved her ability as a guard. Madlyn Guttas also gave good support.

The high scorer among the forwards was Martha Ann Carson. She played a spectacular game in all of the games in which she participated. Barbara Belk, a newcomer to the squad this year, really played a good game. Playing a nice game along with these two was Bruce Hamilton who is only a freshman this year. Mary Jane Hollingsworth played a fine game also.

Although the first game of the season was lost to Westhampton College by a 53-3 score, the team was victorious over St. Gertrude's 22-5; and John Marshall 18-14. They were defeated by Richmond Professional Institute 18-14; Thomas Jefferson 43-14; and St. Catherine's 22-21. With two victories and four defeats the team ended their basketball season for the year.

HOCKEY

For many years the girls of Westhampton have looked forward to having their own athletic teams. First came basketball, the physical education classes, and now, at last, comes with other new sports, a chance for the girls to form a hockey team.

This spring, Coach Margaret Purcell began instructing the girls in the art of wielding a hockey stick. During the regular physical education classes and at the practices after school, the girls were taught the fundamentals of the game so that they would be ready for team competition against other city schools next fall.

This was the first time that many of the girls had ever seen real hockey sticks. Few had ever played before, but they all showed a deep interest in learning to play.

When this annual went to press the girls were still having practice work in handling a stick, dribbling, driving, and fielding a ball. They needed more actual knowledge about the game before having inter-scholastic competition, so Coach Purcell arranged relay races with the teams dribbling the ball down the length of the field.

Hockey, as played by a finely co-ordinated team, is a very fast game and one which takes a great deal of endurance. It is hoped that with the preliminary lessons received this spring, the Westhampton girls will be able to take part in this sport at those schools to which they will be assigned in September, 1943.

GIRLS' TRACK

Among the new sports for girls introduced this year, track was one of the most important. All students took part in this activity during their daily physical education periods, and the students who were especially interested in this phase, stayed for the practices after school.

High-jumping, shot put, basketball throws, dashes, and broad jumping were the favorites. Because this was the first year that the Westhampton girls were offered these different sports, Coach Purcell did not plan inter-scholastic competition, but rather, arranged for more inter-mural contests. The track meet which is scheduled for the spring will not be limited to the group who goes out for track in the afternoons, but will be open to all girls in the gym classes who desire to enter.

Although girl's track is a definite innovation for Westhampton High School the girls have showed interest and enthusiasm over this sport. The remainder of the year will be spent teaching the girls the fundamentals of the various games in order that they might all become familiar with them and be better able to choose a competitive sport for next fall.

THE CHEER LEADERS

MAKING their first public appearance at the game against Fredericksburg on September 2, the cheer leaders, headed by Mary Elizabeth Hood, have done much to awaken the Diplomats' school spirit.

Try-outs were held early in the year and selected from the applicants, in addition to the head cheer leader, were Barbara Belk, Anne Hawthorne, Connie Young, Dot Harrison, Edward Dunford, and Jimmy Sease.

Doing their best bit in leading the football fans at the Varina game, the cheer leaders and the crowd certainly seemed to help the team win its victory, for the boys could tell that the student body was behind them.

As well as leading cheers at the football games, the cheer leading squad also participated at several assemblies and pep rallies which were held to increase the student interest in the teams and the general interests of the school.

Christmas Pageant

December, 1942

MILDRED PAIGE MANCOS

Holy Mary, Mother of God,
Thy greatness is beyond man's mind.
He searches words — but none can find,
To justly praise thy name.

Holy Mary, Gentle Heart,
'Tis only God can match thy fame
And through His works that we can name
The glorious things thou art.

'Tis in the ocean's mighty roll
We feel the depth of thy great soul.
And in the new moon's purity
A symbol of thy heart we see.

When stars shine down from velvet skies
We see a likeness to thine eyes.
As summer breezes pass like lace
We feel thy touch caress our face.

The warmth the sun sends from above
To bless the earth is as thy love.
The light which shines through darkest night
Conveys thy faith and clears the sight.

HALL OF FAME

IDA LEE HOLLINGSWORTH

Serious, charming, gentle — those are the traits which characterize Ida Lee Hollingsworth in the minds of her companions. It makes no difference how small or large the task required of her may be, she is always eager to make her contribution. In doing this she often sacrifices her desires and pleasures to the good of the group. Her versatility is shown in the great variety of activities in which she is engaged. It is unusual that a student so involved in extra-curricular affairs could maintain an excellent scholastic record so consistently, but Ida Lee can — and does just that.

CHARLIE WHITMORE

A favorite with the students of Westhampton High School is Charlie Whitmore. He is famous among them for his keen sense of humor and his quiet, reserved manner. It is that reserved manner which is sometimes misleading, for it is often broken by a gay laugh and a hilarious remark. When you add unfailing courtesy, poise, and a well-trained mind to his quietness and his humor, you get the picture of a well developed, all-round, good student. It is these traits which have won for him the confidence and admiration of the faculty and students of Westhampton.

SUSIE GRAY SEAY

Susie Gray Seay, one of the most attractive and dependable girls in our school, will long be remembered for many outstanding traits of her character. As president of the Chart Club, she has shown herself an active and interested citizen of her Alma Mater. Whenever a job is needed to be done well, Susie is usually called on and the job is completed. The charming smile with which she greets everyone will surely never be forgotten by anyone at Westhampton High School. Her personality and delightful disposition will, we are sure, be an asset to Susie through all her life.

BOB JONES

The students of Westhampton High School will always think of Bob Jones as one of the most outstanding executives which it has been their good fortune to know. That business head of his has put many a student project in working order. Keen enthusiasm is another of his most distinctive traits. Coupled with this is an enviable personality which has won and kept many friends for him. His witty repartee and hearty laughter are famous, so also are his speeches — informal and impromptu. His original ideas and sound thinking have gained for him the respect of the entire student body.

APPRECIATION

The staff of PINES AND PENS, Volume III, wishes to take this opportunity to express its appreciation to those people whose cooperation has been of such material aid to us in the publishing of this book.

To Mrs. Violet A. Gilmer and to her staff of typists, for their time and energy in doing the invaluable typing work.

To Eugene Cooley, for his most important task of doing the photographic work for the annual.

To the business firms, organizations, and patrons who furnished the much needed financial aid.

To Miss Catherine Bentley, for her most valuable guidance and consideration with the literary staff.

To Mr. Mark F. Troxell, for his help on the business staff.

To our printer, Mr. W. Stirling King, for his many suggestions on the organization of this — the 1943 annual.

To all of these and to the student body who has made our annual a financial success we express our thanks.

THE SPIRIT GIVETH LIFE

A picture of one's spirit may take many forms. There are thousands who would testify that its most practical expression, for a man's family, is monthly income life insurance. By this means his spirit truly "giveth life."

Is The Seed of Success In You?

That is the question that every young person faces as the time draws near for him to enter the business world. If you are able to save money, you can succeed; if not, you will fail! You may not think so, but you will lose as sure as fate for the seed of success is not in you. Life insurance is the only plan which not only assists you in saving money but guarantees the safest investment and the most secure protection. When you start out on your business career, start right. Put your dollars to work and save for the future the life insurance way.
